Invitations have already been sent out for the affair which will begin at 2 o'clock when the building will be thrown open for inspection. A dedication program in the main auditorium will get under way at 3 o'clock with Bill Cunningham, Boston Herald columnist, as principal speaker.

Miss Ruth Olive will open the program with the singing of "America." Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, Ph.D., and Rev. John Nicol Mark, A.M., will also take part in the program.

Commander Berg To Head Rehabilitation Committee

Charles L. Berg, commander of Arlington post 39 American Legion, was elected chairman of the Local Advisory Committee for the rehabilitation of returning war veterans, at a meeting held in the hearing room of the Robbins town hall on Monday evening.

COMMANDER BERG

Mrs. Robert Murphy was elected vice chairman and Brayton D. Fisher, secretary. Another meeting will be held in the hearing room on the evening of Jan. 31.

Harold M. Estabrook, chairman of the board of selectmen opened Monday evening's meeting and explained the purpose of the Advisory Committee which was set up at the suggestion of Governor Saltonstall to work in conjunction with the State Advisory Committee. Mr. Estabrook stressed that the purpose of the plan was to give advice and other assistance to returning veterans, and added that eventually an office with a full-time clerk would be set up to fill this need since Arlington has approximately already four thousand in the service.

He then introduced W. Rae Long, chairman of the State Committee and Commissioner of Veterans' Aid and Pensions who explained how the rehabilitation plan would work. Mr. Long stated that more than 270 Massachusetts young men were tain complete information regarding their status, he said. He stressed the importance of proper medical care. The finding of jobs for returning veterans is also most important, he added. The same is true with furthering their education, and on this point, Mr. Long emphasized that returning veterans should not be placed with high school groups.

The problems of the returning veterans are so many and complex that a book will soon be issued by the State relative to the rehabilitation of war veterans, Mr. Long announced.

A chart was then given the members of the local committee showing how the rehabilitation plan can best function for the best interest of returning servicemen.

Mr. Estabrook next turned the meeting over to Arthur J. Mansfield who presided during the election of officers. Mr. Mansfield called for a vote of thanks to Mr. Long for the thorough method in which he explained the working of the rehabilitation plan.

The Rehabilitation Committee is made up of the following members representing various groups:

More Than 175 Bonds Sold By One Bank On First Day Of Treasury Department's Fund Raising Campaign — Solicitors Also Making Personal Calls

Widely advertised via newspapers, radio, etc., the Fourth War Loan drive got off to a flying start on Tuesday with heavy purchases reported by local banks and the Arlington postoffice.

School children, especially, took the launching of the drive on Tuesday most seriously and bought the majority of the 175 War Bonds issued by the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank the first day of the drive. Another local bank reported $2,400 worth of bonds purchased during the first two hours of business on Wednesday. Solicitors who have volunteered their services to the Arlington War Finance Committee, which is conducting the local drive, have also started to make their house-to-house calls and are meeting with success.

Last minute plans for Arlington's participation in the nationwide campaign were mapped out at a meeting in the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank on Friday afternoon. Another meeting of the local committee will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the same bank. Arthur J. Mansfield and Harrie H. Dadmun, co-chairmen of the local drive, will report on the progress of the local campaign at this meeting.

Seek Lost Books
Highlighting the school department's participation in this drive, under the direction of Superintendent of Schools Clifford R. Hall, is a Treasure Hunt. The purpose behind this is to dig out all partly filled war stamp books that may be hidden in desk and bureau drawers at home. Children have asked their parents to look up these books, fill them with stamps and convert them into bonds during the Loan Drive.

Three more candidates were added to the list of those seeking election to the board of selectmen this week when A. Gordon Wier of 15 Alfred road took out nomination papers and William E. Hearn of 24 Dundee road announced that he would seek the office.

Another candidate to take out nomination papers for the board of selectmen is Robert W. Peirce of 88 Lake st.

Yeames for re-election to the Sinking Fund commission, also trustee of the Pratt fund for three years and the Farmer Fund for two years; and Harrie H. Dadmun, candidate for re-election as trustee of the Pratt Fund and the Farmer Fund, both for five years.

With only a few days to go before the deadline for filing nomination papers with the board of registrars, it is evident thus far that interest will center on the contest for selectmen which has produced two other well-known candidates, Hallam T. Ring and Joseph Peterson.

4th War Loan

Two local schools, Junior High School West and Junior High School Center are already flying the Minute Man flag denoting that more than 90 per cent of the student body have participated in the War Savings drive each month. Mr. Hall reported at Friday's meeting. The next objective is for schools to buy enough bonds to purchase a plane.

According to this plan, any school which buys enough war bonds to pay for a plane, the least expensive of which—a pursuit plane—costs $15,000, will be especially honored. A plaque bearing the school's name will be placed on the plane and a duplicate of the plane will be presented to the school. The pilot and crew of the plane will in turn officially notify the school as to the name given their plane. This program is part of a nationwide project under the sponsorship of the Treasury Department and local school pupils are making every effort to boost their school totals during the Fourth War Loan drive in order to buy a plane as quickly as possible, Mr. Hall said.

Precincts Organized

Local volunteers are working under the direction of precinct chairmen during the money-raising campaign in which Arlington is expected to buy three million dollars' worth of bonds. First precinct to be completely organized is Precinct Six with Winslow C. Sisson as chairman. His captains are: William G. Porter, Miss Anna Barnes, Mrs. Milton Estabrook, Mrs. John L. Berry, Charles A. Hardy, Torsten H. Reenstiers, Russell P. Wise, Mrs. L. Brooks Saville and Mrs. W. Frederick Fletcher.

Other precincts are being organized under the direction of the canvassing committee. Complete instructions have been given solicitors to insure that bonds are properly issued.

Arlington Boy Scouts cheerfully gave a hand this week and helped make up workers' kits at the War Loan drive headquarters in the NEWS office. These scouts are Robert Barry, James Kealey and Paterson Crockett.

Special rallies featured the opening of the War Loan drive. Among those attending a gathering of War Finance Committee heads at the Hotel Statler on Tuesday evening were Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, chairman of the women's division here and Mrs. H. H. Gunnerson, telephone chairman. D. B. Stanbro, manager of the Statler, was host at this gathering which was sponsored by the American Hotel Association and the Columbia Broadcasting System. Speakers included F. W. Denio, state chairman; Lt. Comdr. Jack Dempsey and Glenwood J. Sherrard, president of the American Hotel Association. Women volunteers selling at least $1,000 worth of bonds will receive a special citation from the Treasury Department.

Present at the final pre-campaign meeting of the local War Finance committee were Messrs. Mansfield, Arthur Haywood, Arthur Wells, William Keane, Roger A. McGinniss, Joseph Peterson, Clifford R. Hall, Edward P. Clarke, William C. Sisson, L. Albert Broderick and Brayton D. Fisher.

More Individual Buying
A Massachusetts army of 100,000 volunteer workers is now attacking the state's $794,000,000 quota for the Fourth War Loan. From homes, from offices, from schools and financial centers, these patriotic salesmen are undertaking their task of making good on the slogan, "Let's All Back the Attack."

"Never has it been more important to put a war financing campaign over the top," F. W. Denio, Massachusetts state chairman of the War Finance Committee, said in an appeal for support of the drive. "We can all see that victory is coming closer, but we know that much hard fighting remains before the day of triumph."

First reports from the field show an encouraging gain in sales to individuals as compared to the Third War Loan. Citizens of Massachusetts have the task of buying $258,000,000 in Fourth War Loan bonds before the drive closes Feb. 15, compared to an investment of $165,000,000 last September.

Already in action as a War Bond stimulus is the New England Sector War Bond Cavalcade. This collection of professional stage talent now in the services consists of 75 men and eight WACS.

Why Buy Bonds?

The following, from a dispatch sent from Italy by Kenneth L. Dixon, Associated Press Correspondent, is published by the War Finance Committee of Massachusetts in the belief that it best tells why all Americans should support the Fourth War Loan. Permission for republication has been granted by the Associated Press.

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY—
The kid lay on the hillside fighting to control his trembling nerves. The planes had gone. Their bombs had fallen several hundred yards down the valley. Their bullets had been closer.

Methodically as though it were an old battle, the kid pulled himself together. He shook a crumpled cigarette out of his pockets, stuck it into a pair of lips surrounded by a beard of mud.

He pulled out matches whose red, white and blue cover said "Invest in the U. S. A. buy war bonds," and lit the cigarette. His words were unexpected.

"You got a tough job," he said. "Nothing you can write can make the folks back home understand what it's like. It's impossible. They can't understand, and it isn't their fault. Nobody could understand unless he's been through it."

"... That's what gets you," said the kid. "It's the feeling that you're going to be killed and not a soul in the world knows about it. How can you make people understand that feeling?"

It still didn't make sense next morning when I met the litter bearers bringing the dead ones down the ravine and laying them beside the trail for the truck to pick up. I knew the kid was among them even before I asked the sergeant. He pointed at the blanket-covered bodies. Only their feet showed—muddy G. I. shoes pointing upward.

Nobody knew how he got it—whether it was suddenly, in a flash of unreality or slowly after waiting and sweating it out all alone.

Cronin Speaks On F.B.I. Work

In the vestry of the Calvary Methodist Church about seventy-five persons gathered last Thursday evening to witness the program of the Calvary Women's Society of Christian Service. The evening had been designated as Men's Night, and as a result many men of the Church were present.

Mrs. Howard McGovern presided. She presented Mrs. Norman Walkinshaw, who introduced the guest speaker, Atty. Herbert J. Cronin of Arlington. Mr. Cronin was associated with the FBI for seven years (is now with the U. S. Department of Agriculture), and brought a message concerning the deeds accomplished by that organization. He compared the treatment of law enforcement in early days with the present, and showed how the FBI has strengthened these agencies by means of complete courses to acquaint the men with police detection and the knowledge of the law.

Attorney Cronin touched on the problem of juvenile delinquency which is steadily growing in the country, and predicted that forcible measures would have to be taken—now, and in post-war days ahead, to relieve this situation. "Children should be given something constructive to do," he said, "if not, they grow up and get into trouble such as we are facing at the present time. Remember, too, if the community is law-abiding the children will be also." He commented on how people shunned serving on the jury, and stressed this as part of their duty as an American citizen. He told also how many persons are loath to testify in court, or how, having witnessed a crime failed to report same to the police.

A business meeting was then conducted at which time reports of the Society officers and Circle chairmen were heard. Mrs. McGovern introduced two guests, Mrs. Richard T. Broeg, wife of the minister of the Heights Methodist Church, and Mrs. Lyman Bond, president of the Women's Society there.

A report was made by the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. William D. Wright and the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Howard McGovern; program chairman, Mrs. Ralph King; recording secretary, Miss Molly Steeves; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jessie Augustus; financial secretary, Miss Edith Starkey; treasurer, Mrs. Russell Bradford; secretary of Local Church Activities and Christian Social Relations, Mrs. Carl Nelson; secretary of supplies, and parsonage committee, Mrs. George Easter; secretary of children's work, Mrs. Charles Kirschbaum; secretary of student work, Mrs. Vernon Littlefield; secretary of devotion, Mrs. Arthur Williams; secretary of membership, Mrs. Earle Fraser; secretary of fellowship, Mrs. Robert Chandler, Jr.; and secretary of publicity, Miss Ruth Philpott.

The meeting closed with a devotional period, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Aiken. Refreshments were served with Mrs. William Hamilton in charge.

Lions See Movies Of Hingham Shipyards

"Ships for Victory", a technicolor movie showing the production of warships at the Bethlehem-Hingham yards was enjoyed at Monday evening's meeting of the Arlington Lions Club at the Old Mill. Thirty-five members were present.

The club's participation in the Fourth War Loan drive was discussed during the short business meeting.

CHANGING STANDARDS

Change in the American standard of living brought about by priorities and rationing were inevitable. But whatever sacrifices must be made to insure victory, we all know that we are helping to win what we must and shall win—a continuance of our democratic fellowship of freedom.

The high standards of service, so long maintained by this organization, have not been lowered. The restrictions in the use of construction materials has not prevented the making of beautiful, durable caskets of distinguished craftsmanship. We continue to provide appropriate funerals of fine quality at prices set by the families when they make arrangements.

SERVICEMEN WANT BOOKS

—The men in the armed forces and the merchant marine need more books desperately, according to an appeal which has just been made by the Massachusetts Victory Book Committee. A goal of 250,000 volumes has been set and all types of books in good condition will be welcomed, biographies, travel, science, religion, fiction, westerns, etc. Arlingtonians are asked to cooperate and donate books which will reach the armed forces where they are most wanted. Books may be left at the local libraries or at the War Information Center in the Old Town Hall building during the afternoon. The committee will see that the books are delivered to servicemen.

Those wishing to contribute books and find it impossible to deliver them are asked to call ARL 3220 and the books will be picked up.

"Youth Guidance—Social Problems in War Time"—This course will be given by Louise C. Keyes, instructor of University extension courses.

A feature of the course will be guest speakers. A program of speakers and lecture topics will be available early in February at the University Extension Office, 200 Newbury street, Boston.

This course will open for registration Thursday, Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m., Sever Hall, Cambridge.

Scout Notes

TROOP FIVE

Paul Power, troop committee chairman of Troop Five directed the Green Bar meeting held recently at the Old Mill. He explained in detail the troop committee organization and the facilities thus made available to the boys.

John O'Neil, troop treasurer, described the financing of the club, the collection of dues and how they were essential for the operation of the troop. This led to planning how to improve the troop meetings. Variety in program left each boy something to look forward to with anticipation. January 27 was set aside for Court of Review making a definite date for the scouts to be prepared to demonstrate their progress. Boys were assigned to take charge of the advancement chart. Messrs Trainor and Gaudet will be available to help the boys as needed. Contests will be held in airplane construction, mechanics, crafts, collecting and other activities related to Scouting. The school facilities will be used for commando training until the weather permits outdoor activities. An expert first aid course is being planned.

Inter-troop visits were reported as feature of this year with requests for more such nights.

Last Sunday was another red letter day for Pack 86 and Troop 86, the event being a trip to the Sportsmen's Show in Boston, with 75 boys and 15 adult leaders making the trip. The group left the Arlington Heights car barns by special trolley at 12:15, the car going directly to the Arena. By special arrangement with the management the boys were admitted immediately on arrival, and after witnessing the exposition in its entirety returned home at 6.

LET'S MAKE THE INVASION STICK

This is the week that all of Massachusetts begins to "Back the Attack." The 4,000,000 men, women and children in the state bring up their financial guns to help pound out the $794,000,000 Massachusetts quota in the Fourth War Loan by Feb. 15. Banks, insurance companies and other big buyers will do their share. But the real burden of success or failure of the drive rests on us citizens.

Our goal in Arlington is $3,000,000. We must reach it by investing in War Bonds, as low as $18.75. We are buying bonds now—most of us. Our job during the next month is to buy extra bonds—all of us.

Gen. Eisenhower is now in London. He is there for the greatest military venture ever conducted by an American. This is the invasion of Northwestern Europe. His record undertaking requires record financial support. The invasion force is ready. Our dollars must send them guns and supplies to make the invasion stick.

But our dollars in War Bonds serve not only on the military front. They work for us at home. Dollars in Fourth War Loan bonds now mean the homes and education of tomorrow. They fight their own fight today against the peril of inflation. Dollars in War Bonds set the brakes against runaway prices as swollen war income competes for a diminishing supply of goods.

We are buying bonds now—most of us. The Fourth War Loan is going to let our neighbors know that we are buying extra bonds. The red, white and blue window sticker tells that "We bought Extra War Bonds." Let's get ours today.

FIGHTING TO LIVE

The whole world is caught in the throes of a vicious, relentless war. Our sons and our daughters are scattered throughout a war-torn world. They are giving their energy, part of their youth, their comforts—even their lives that we might live.

Time and civilization march down the road together, life or death the priceless stakes for which humanity plays. There is another front at home where the stakes are just as great. Thousands of victims of infantile paralysis are fighting for life against a grim reaper—that mystery disease of the centuries that has destroyed the virility of our youth.

As time and civilization march, it is important that we preserve our priceless heritages of youth, courage, imagination, freedom, tolerance. There is little freedom in a crippled body. Stifled youth has little or no imagination. We ask the citizens of Massachusetts to give them courage, to help them fight to live.

In a larger sense, all of us are on this second front. Your dime, your dollar—the financial plasma is necessary now to meet the impact of a serious post-war period.

Our blessings have been many. Our health, our opportunities, our achievements, the ability to live normal lives impose upon us the responsibility to assist those who have been denied these great privileges. It is the province of the strong to help the weak. The doctrine of noblesse oblige has a greater significance today than ever before in national history. Be grateful for your blessings, help those who need your help, contribute your dollar now to the Infantile Paralysis fund campaign which is now under way.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Department Commander John J. Delay of The American Legion has issued a request that friends and relatives of all Servicemen, as well as members of all Massachusetts Legion Posts and Units, immediately contact their Congressman in Washington soliciting support of House Bill 29 which places all matters pertaining to Veterans of World War No. 2 in a World War Veterans' Committee of Congress.

War Savings sales in Arlington public schools last week amounted to $3,641.90 with Junior High School Center topping all schools with a total sale of $731 while Junior High West was a close second with $719.20 in stamps and bonds bought during the week.

The Arlington Women's Republican Club will meet next Wednesday at 2 p.m. in Legion Hall, Miss Lucinda M. Higgins, president, presiding. The guest speaker, William A. Wheeler, general representative of the B & M and Maine Central R. R. will speak on "Railroads at War." Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, soprano, will be the soloist. Tea in charge of Mrs. Thomas H. Callahan and Mrs. Harrison Evans. All women are welcome.

Members of the Arlington Garden Club have been invited to attend the meeting of the Hardy School P. T. A. Association in the school auditorium, on Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 2 p.m. Representing the Audubon Society in its efforts to conserve wild life, George Marler, ranger-naturalist of Yellowstone National Park, will give an illustrated lecture, "Feathers and Fur."

Clem Norton Says

EX Boston School Committee-man Joseph Lee had one of his front teeth knocked out recently. He was playing hockey on the Charles River with his 8 year old son Joe, Jr., and the latter accidentally struck his dad with his hockey stick. "He's the roughest kid in Boston for his age" said Joe, the son of the father of American recreation. The 8 year old boy is a crack skater. Children should get started young with their skating.

A young man from Readville was recently discharged from the U. S. Army because of "extreme homesickness." I actually saw the discharge with that notation written on it or I would not have believed the story. As I looked at the face of this youngster and studied him, I said to myself "Well, he's better looking to me than Frank Sinatra with the big ears."

Emil Ludvig, the famous author, spoke in Boston recently. At the end of his lecture he kept asking me, "Could you understand me?" He was worried about his language for he speaks with a strong dialect and, at times, is hard to understand. Some people have been in Boston fifty years and speak no better English today than the first year that they arrived from a foreign land. Yet these people may be very bright in other ways.

Jan Pearce, an American boy of Jewish extraction, is a Metropolitan star and one of the finest tenors that I have heard in years. James Melton is my other favorite. For 25 years I never missed a John McCormack concert in Boston. Pearce, off the stage, wears very thick glasses. He memorizes the words of all songs. I paid $2.50 to hear him sing at Symphony Hall recently. Hear him at 10 p.m. on the radio—Wednesdays—and see if you agree with me. Jan's brother, Max Ruthven, is in the Army and stationed at a Boston fort right now.

Wm. P. Long, whose Boston Public Garden flowers are nationally famous, stood talking for three minutes the other day with ex-Councillor Daniel H. Coakley in the lobby of the Parker House. After Mr. Coakley had gone, the Commissioner said to me, "Who did you say that man was?" Both Mr. Coakley and Commissioner Long have been around School Street and City Hall points for over 40 years and still, neither man had ever met the other. (Hear Clem Norton every Monday—WMEX—at 7:45 p.m.)

SHEA IS ELECTED DIRECTOR OF ARCHITECTS' ASSOCIATION

John H. Shea of 19 Alfred road, was elected a director of the Massachusetts State Association of Architects at the annual meeting held at the Boston Architectural Club.

Publicity chairman of the State association, Mr. Shea is also editor of the association's bulletin which has been received favorably by the members, especially those who are now in the armed forces. Mr. Shea is president of the Architectural League of Boston. He is a registered architect with 25 years' experience. He is now conducting a survey relating to the safety of occupants in large retail establishments throughout the country so that building conditions will conform to the requirements established by the code accepted by the National Fire Protection Association and the National Board of Fire Underwriters, as well as the requirements established by the Department of Commerce in Washington for the safety of patrons of large mercantile organizations. He is at present serving as a traverse juror in the second civil session of the Superior Court at East Cambridge.

More than 400 registered architects, some of whom live in Arlington, hold membership in the Massachusetts State Association of Architects. Mr. Shea took a very active part in the association's support of the Legislative Acts of 1941, Chapter 696 setting up a Board of Registration of Architects. This legislation was brought about for the protection of the public by setting up the qualifications necessary for registered architects.

As chairman of publicity, Mr. Shea has been instrumental in securing outstanding speakers for meetings of the Architects' Association.

He has taken an active part in Town affairs and is a town meeting member representing precinct four.

Red Cross Afghan Made By Pupils Now On Display

The colorful afghan displayed in the window of Red Cross Headquarters this week is a reminder that the school children of Arlington have their part in Red Cross work too. The afghan, all 96 squares, was knit by the pupils of the fourth grade of Cutter School, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Elsie McCarthy, as a Junior Red Cross project.

Boys as well as girls were proud to knit to keep a soldier warm. The yarn was contributed by the children and the work for the most part was done outside school hours.

The afghan will be sent to the Boston Headquarters and from there to a hospital to cheer and warm a convalescent service man.

Locke School PTA

The parents of the Locke School PTA were entertained Thursday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Buxton's third grade who gave orchestral and vocal selections. Mrs. Edna Bedford gave many ideas for the development of the growing child with particular emphasis on the importance of planned programs for play.

MISS COLLINS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Collins of 84 Brooks ave., announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Ruth Ann Collins to Corp. Walter H. Today, with the eyes of the world upon us, THE FOURTH WAR LOAN IS LAUNCHED!

Today, the 18th of January, America's Fourth War Loan starts.

It is the largest of all war loans in terms of individual participation—in the amount you must dig down for.

And—it is, perhaps, the most important of all War Loans. For it comes at a time when the eyes of all the world are upon us: the eyes of our friends, the eyes of our enemies, the eyes of our own fighting men.

We have just entered the crucial year of the war, a year of destiny, a year that promises to decide how good or bad a world we'll have to live in all the rest of our lives. And the world is wondering how deeply we mean it when we promise our men we'll back their attack, and when we promise our Allies we'll stick with them not only through the winning of the war but through the winning of the peace as well.

The Fourth War Loan is the home front's first big test of this new and vital year. It will take unity and determination of will of all the people to make the Loan succeed.

The need for this and other War Loans should be clear to every American. This war is the costliest effort ever undertaken by any country. It costs 250 million dollars each day. This is just the cost of the war, in addition to the regular, inescapable cost of running a great and huge country. Taxes can't take care of all this outgo. Neither can government borrowing from insurance companies, savings banks, corporations, and other large investors. It is necessary to turn to the people, their weekly wages, their savings accounts, the money tucked away in pantry sugar bowls, in socks, under mattresses.

This is as it should be. In a democracy, war is the business of all the people. Some must fight, some must work and put up the money.

It's the only way to raise the money. It's also the right way to raise the money. It gives you a good place to invest the extra money you have today. It's a curb on inflation, on that dangerous bulk of pocket money that leads to black markets and disastrous spending. It's a mattress for tomorrow, a sort of individually planned Social Security that will bring in welcome money in the years ahead when income might not be the Mississippi flood it is today.

These last are not the reasons for the Loans. They are extra reasons, however, over and above the $1 interest you get on every $3 you invest. The fundamental reason for the Fourth War Loan is that your beloved America, at war and in danger, needs your help!

Every one who has a job or savings, should invest at least $100—if possible, $200, $300, or $500 extra. Some 5,000,000 Americans, volunteers, will be working to sell these Bonds. One of these volunteers will ask you to buy, where you work, at your home, or some other place. If by some chance, you're missed, find out where to buy and buy on your own.

The place where you work will have a quota. That's where you should make your major investment. That's where your personal quota really counts.

But . . .

The place you live also has a quota. Try to invest there, too. Other people will ask you. Salespeople, in retail stores, have volunteered to help and have an individual quota. If they ask you to buy, try to buy from them, too. Movie theaters, restaurants, schools, banks, postoffices, and many other places also will be selling Bonds.

The Fourth Loan is a test of us as a nation, as a people.

The eyes of our fighting men are upon us to see if we are backing them.

... The eyes of our Allies are upon us to see if we are with them.

... The eyes of our enemies are upon us to see if we are soft enough to fall for a non-victorious, here-today-gone-tomorrow peace . . .

Are we? The answer is in your pocket!

THEY say that after a while we become callous to death and suffering.

They say that in wartime people cannot understand the little heartaches and tragedies that touch individual lives. For when death and destruction occur on a mass scale, what happened to this one American soldier may not mean so much to you.

But to his parents and to a girl back home, his death means the end of everything.

It means the end of his dreams of a happy home, a family, a future...

Think of this boy for just a moment, please. Think of him... of his family... of what might have been?

Can you, in all decency, say that you "can't afford" an extra War Bond? We know you'll come through—as you have in every other War Loan Drive—and INVEST IN AT LEAST ONE EXTRA HUNDRED DOLLAR BOND today. That's the least you can do. You should do more, if you can. Invest $200, $300, $400—as much as possible. Remember, a hundred dollar Series E War Bond costs only seventy-five dollars. You get back $4.00 at maturity for every $3.00 you put up.

Get that extra hundred dollar Bond today at your bank. Or tell your employer to take it out of your salary. Help the company you work for to meet its quota.

Build Your Future With The World's Safest Investment

All over the country men and women look to the future with confidence. They are the ones who have put part of their extra wartime earnings into the world's safest investment—U. S. Government War Bonds.

Yes, they are helping their country in its grimmest struggle. But they are helping themselves, too! They are helping to secure their future, to weather any troubled days that may lie ahead.

What about you? Are you letting the dollars slip through your fingers —dollars that should be put safely away in War Bonds?

There are War Bonds to fit your needs. Bonds which are backed up by the strongest "company" in the world. Build that home you have always dreamed about. Send your child to college. Buy the wonderful things that are coming after the war. YOU CAN DO IT WITH YOUR WAR BOND SAVINGS.

Display Your Colors

Every patriotic home in America will want to display this emblem. Paste it on your front door or on a window to show that you have done your part in the 4th War Loan.
